"The first thing that brought me to Essex was wanting to try something different to my country, Lithuania. I feel like the University of Essex was a very big part in shaping who I am; shaping my confidence, shaping my interests. Not just in politics in general, but in life too. I have been involved with so many activities here. I think Essex gives you the opportunity to be who you want to be, and who you are. It gives you a chance to try and do different things."

GABIJA DALEKAITE
MSc Conflict Resolution

"There's a stereotype that computer scientists have to be nerdy. But I think it can be more fun and can give the opportunity to create something new. Especially in these internet days, where everything is moving fast and going online, things have to change, change is constant. And I think human beings are best when they are creative, we have this potential in us, that's what makes us unique. In my PhD, I've tried to find my own way of creating the new out of the old."

TIMI SALAKO
PhD Computer Science

"I stayed at Essex for my Masters because I loved my course and department. At Essex I've really developed as a person, and my confidence has grown so much. I was a Residents' Assistant in my second year, I've been elected President of the Pole Dance Club, and I work in the Employability and Careers Centre and as a Student Ambassador. I'm really proud of myself for taking those steps and doing something great. I'm much less quiet than I used to be."

RESEARCH IMPACT

Green exercise was founded at Essex – we're always developing new ground-breaking research

Our researchers ask difficult questions, looking at challenges in new ways, and finding fresh and thought-provoking answers.

WHY RESEARCH?

There are many different reasons to pursue research at a university. You may want to satisfy your personal and professional curiosity, stimulate your passion for your subject, or contribute to an ever-growing global bank of knowledge. You might want to change the world for the better, develop high-level skills, build networks and enhance your professional development. At Essex, you become part of a world-renowned research community that will allow you to achieve your research goals, whatever they are.

WHY ESSEX?

We need to find ways to tackle the big challenges we face – whether social, economic or environmental. Being part of our Essex research community will give you the support and resources needed to help to make a difference. The impact of our research is worldwide. You'll receive world-class support, training and supervision, and we'll keep pushing you to reach your potential.

EXPERTISE AND IMPACT

We celebrate our excellent research and the positive impact it has on people's everyday lives, in the UK and around the world, with our annual research awards. Open to all our academics, researchers and PhD students, nearly 60 projects were nominated in 2020.

The Awards demonstrate the astonishing breadth of our work and show how those in different departments look at issues from entirely different perspectives. We look at issues that affect you both now and in the future – from how your online footprint affects your human rights, to how we can feed the world's growing population. Our research shapes thinking and influences policy. We've helped governments model the effects of their economic policies and have shaped the global debate on mental health law reform.

The Quality Assurance Agency recognised the high-quality research environment and opportunities for professional development in their last review.

RESEARCH SHOWCASE

Across our academic departments, students and staff are creating new and innovative research which challenges the status quo. Here's a snapshot of the work that we're involved in right now.

THE TRUE COST OF WAR

Essex students used social media to help challenge official accounts of the bombing of the Syrian city of Raqqa. The students, members of the Digital Verification Unit (DVU) at our Human Rights Centre, provided research for a ground-breaking, immersive report, published by Amnesty International. 'War in Raqqa: Rhetoric Versus Reality' alleges that in 2017 bombing by the US-led Coalition resulted in over 1,600 civilian casualties, over ten times the Coalition's own figure. The students applied geo-location and verification techniques to photo and video content shared from the city to build a detailed picture of where bombs and artillery shells fell.

THE EFFECTS OF CLIMATE CHANGE

The warming of the Arctic Ocean due to climate change means sea ice cover is becoming increasingly seasonal, and it is predicted that it will completely disappear every year during the warmer months. The knock-on effect of this means organic matter which was previously contained within the ice is now being released into the surface water. Through experiments carried out in the High Canadian Arctic, Essex's Professor Graham Underwood demonstrated that different organic carbon compounds released from the sea ice modify the abundance, activity, and composition of surface water microbial communities. This significant research shows the impact on the microbial communities in the Arctic and the impact on the food chain and water column carbon cycling in areas where seasonal ice is replacing permanent ice cover.

PIONEERING IMPLANT TECHNOLOGY

A Swedish woman, who has an amputated hand, became the first recipient of an 'osseo-neuromuscular implant' which offers to control a dexterous hand prosthesis. In pioneering surgery, titanium implants were placed in the two forearm bones, from which electrodes to nerves and muscle were extended to extract signals to control a robotic hand and to provide tactile sensations. This makes it the first clinically viable, dexterous and sentient prosthetic hand usable in real life. The new implant technology was developed in Sweden. Dr Luca Citi, who is leading the Essex side of the project, said: "Our team contributed to the development of algorithms which could decode and understand the neuro-muscular signals from the user's brain about what they intended to do and then send those commands to the robotic control of the prosthetic hand".

THE SECRETS OF AN ACTOR'S ANCESTORS

Interest in our ancestry is opening new doors for historians and giving their work greater exposure according to Professor Lucy Noakes of our Department of History, who recently helped actor Helena Bonham Carter discover her grandmother's wartime experiences for Channel 4's documentary 'My Grandparent's War'. Professor Noakes uncovered and described the experiences of Violet Bonham Carter when she was working as an air raid warden during the Blitz. She said: "It was great fun working with Helena Bonham Carter – she was very interested in her family's history and the history of the war more widely and asked loads of good questions."

ORGANISED CRIME AND CRIMINAL NETWORKS

An Essex-based research project aims to advance our understanding of why large seaports across the world are hotspots for organised crime and open to exploitation by criminal networks.

The project is led by organised crime expert Dr Anna Sergi, from our Department of Sociology. Anna said: "Ports are unique environments and crimes such as drug trafficking and the smuggling of illegal goods are rife within them. The problem is they are areas that comprise different border zones cutting across different national jurisdictions and inevitably there are some unregulated areas. They are places of flux, of arrival and transit, and they fall between different economic processes and political decisions – but they are also microcosms of the cities and towns beyond. Criminal networks are able to exploit and circumvent customs and controls at ports and it's vital that we further examine and compare how this happens across the world in order to better inform policy."

TRUE COST OF BINGE DRINKING

A new research study, conducted by Professor Marco Francesconi from our Department of Economics, provides a detailed picture of the consequences of binge drinking, by estimating its impact on road accidents, accident and emergency (A&E) attendance and arrests. It shows that binge drinking increases road accidents by 18.6% and fatal accidents by 72%; A&E attendance by 6% and the number of arrests for alcohol-related incidents by 71%. These results imply nearly 6,100 extra road accidents and 300 additional fatalities, around 63,000 additional A&E attendances each year and 100,000 extra arrests.

Professor Francesconi said: "A conservative estimate on the cost of binge drinking on the agencies left to pick up the pieces – including the NHS and police – is £1.52 billion a year." He also worked out that each drink driving arrest costs £22,800, which is eight times the amount of the current maximum fine.

BOOSTING FOOD PRODUCTION

Our scientists, including plant biology expert, Professor Christine Raines, are using advanced tools to develop crops that give farmers more options for sustainably producing more food on less land. To do this, thousands of plant prototypes must be carefully analysed to figure out which genetic tweaks work best. New technology can more quickly scan an entire field of plants to capture improvements in their natural capacity to harvest energy from the sun. Researchers can then analyse an enormous amount of genetic material to efficiently pinpoint traits that could greatly improve crop performance.

COMBATTING PTSD WITH NATURE

A programme, developed at Essex, is improving the lives of military veterans by helping them overcome the debilitating symptoms of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). Over 100 veterans have benefitted so far, with participants reporting reduced symptoms and an improvement both in their ability to work and in their personal lives. Dr Mark Wheeler, a psychological therapist working in the NHS, who is also completing a PhD at Essex, has been involved in research using green exercise techniques, such as being outdoors and fishing, which has so far proven to be enormously beneficial to the health and wellbeing of veterans suffering with PTSD.

VITAL HUMANITARIAN WORK BEING CRIMINALISED

NGOs providing legitimate humanitarian assistance and solidarity to refugees and migrants across Europe are increasingly being criminalised, Dr Carla Ferstman of our School of Law has reported. States have legislated to outlaw the normal activities of NGOs, and state agencies have acted in ways that both obstruct their work and discriminate between them based on the support they provide. Dr Ferstman said: "The response of the European Union and many governments has been to make it as hard as possible for refugees and migrants to reach the continent."

Professors Christine Raines and Tracy Lawson working to solve one of societies greatest modern challenges

"Our researchers address global challenges that generates new knowledge for the benefit of communities and society across the globe. Our postgraduate students, form an active part of our research community and benefit directly from our research excellence and international reputation."

Professor Christine Raines
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Research)

FEES AND FUNDING

Learn about our fees, living expenses and all the ways in which you can save money on your degree – either through discounts, loans or scholarships.

POSTGRADUATE FEES

Tuition fees for all of our postgraduate courses are on our website. Just find the course you're interested in and click on its 'fees and funding' tab.

TUITION FEE INCREASES

The University sets postgraduate tuition fees for one academic year at a time. If your course lasts for more than one academic year, the fees due for your second and subsequent years of study may therefore be different to the fee advertised on our website.

For students commencing their studies at the University of Essex from the 2021-22 academic year, your fees will increase by up to 5% for each academic year of study.

WHAT ARE FEES SPENT ON?

We re-invest our students' fees to employ some of the best academic minds in the UK, as well as improve our facilities. Recent additions to our campuses include the Sport Arena, the STEM Centre (for science, technology, engineering and mathematics students), and the Innovation Centre on our Knowledge Gateway Research Park. essex.ac.uk/fees-and-funding/using-your-fees

STUDENT VISA REQUIREMENTS

As part of the visa application process, you'll need to be able to provide evidence that you can pay tuition fees and cover living expenses. essex.ac.uk/immigration

PAYMENT OF TUITION FEES

Your fees can be paid in full when you start studying with us, or in three equal instalments at the start of each academic term, in October, January and April. If you will require sponsorship for a UK immigration permission, you must pay your first instalment of £1,000 as a deposit in order to be assigned your Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS), or show proof that you are being sponsored by a body recognised by our University.

LIVING EXPENSES

In January 2019, the average amount required for living expenses for a single student in 2019-20 was estimated to be £14,418 for both our Colchester and Southend campuses and £13,622 for our Loughton Campus. This included the cost of University accommodation and an allowance to cover food and other expenses, such as travel, leisure activities and study-related books. Expenses are usually higher for families and research students.

- offer cross-institutional collaboration with other consortium member institutions

There are three DTPs that Essex belongs to which may be able to fund your studies. These DTPs enable you to gain advanced skills and knowledge whilst receiving funding to support your research.

ARIES

Funded by the Natural Environment Research Council (NERC), ARIES is an extensive world-class partnership integrating 59 partners from universities, research institutes and end users. ARIES is built upon scientific excellence within five overlapping research themes: ecology and biodiversity; marine, atmospheric and climate science; geosciences, resources and environmental risk; environmental genomics and microbiology; agri-environments and water.

GENERAL ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Taught courses

We will consider a 2:2 or above (or international equivalent) in an undergraduate degree. For some courses there may be additional requirements. Visit the course pages on our website for information on specific entry requirements.

Research degrees

In most cases you will need:

- a good performance in a Masters degree (in order to study for a PhD, in most disciplines)

If English is not your first language, you need to provide evidence of your ability to understand and express yourself in English for academic purposes. We accept a range of tests, including IELTS, TOEFL and Pearson. A test should normally be less than three years old at the time you start your course. If you have already taken a test, you can include a copy of your test certificate with your application. Your offer will be conditional upon you achieving an acceptable English language qualification if you do not meet the requirements above. The score required will vary by subject, but all postgraduate courses require a minimum IELTS score of 5.5 in each component (or equivalent).

If you have successfully and recently completed a degree taught in English, this is also likely to be sufficient proof of proficiency.

Visit the course pages on our website for information on specific English language requirements.

PRE-SESSIONAL ENGLISH LANGUAGE COURSES

We offer pre-sessional English language courses which can be taken before your degree if you do not meet our English language entry requirements. The courses will help you improve your English. On successful completion of the pre-sessional course you will be able to proceed on to your degree course without having to retake IELTS. Our pre-sessional courses are delivered by the University of Essex International College.

RESEARCH PROPOSALS

Your research proposal is an important part of your application for a research degree. Use it to:

- explain your personal and academic goals in undertaking an extended piece of research
- reflect on the contribution you will make to the development of new knowledge, ideas and solutions
- comment on how your research interests fit with the academic focus and expertise at Essex

Your research proposal should be between 800-1,000 words in length and include:

- a working title and key words
- a summary of the aims and objectives of your research
- an outline of the ways you meet these aims and objectives, referring to the research methods and specific resources you will use
- evidence of your awareness of relevant literature and theoretical approaches
- an overview of the expected outcomes and the original contribution your research will make to existing bodies of knowledge
- a brief statement on how your research interests tie in with those found in your department, school or centre

Please be aware that a research proposal may be rejected if it is poorly expressed or badly presented.

“The journey of a PhD student is just like a roller coaster, so make sure you take the time to celebrate the wins and reflect on the losses. My PhD involves examining the process of skeletal muscle activation/deactivation by developing novel mathematical methods to extract dynamic information from image data. The most enjoyable aspect of my work is the flexibility it gives me as an individual and being able to deepen my understanding in the field of Bayesian statistics, which I find particularly interesting. In the future I plan to work in the industry as a Data Scientist, on various projects related either to macroeconomics or finance.”

WHY CAN'T WE TAKE IT FURTHER, TO THE BIT WHERE IT REALLY GETS INTERESTING? WE'RE ABOUT THE PEOPLE WHO HUDDLE OUTSIDE A CLASS LONG AFTER IT'S FINISHED BECAUSE THERE'S MUCH MORE TO BE SAID, MORE ARGUMENTS TO BE HAD. WE'RE ABOUT PEOPLE WHO ARE BOLD ENOUGH TO CHALLENGE INEQUALITY AND THE STATUS QUO. PEOPLE WHO DON'T EXPECT THE WORLD TO CHANGE SIMPLY BECAUSE THEY LIKED A FACEBOOK STATUS OR NODDED WHEN SOMEONE ELSE SPOKE. AT ESSEX YOU'RE NOT JUST A STUDENT, YOU'RE A MEMBER, SOMEONE WITH GENUINE LICENCE TO SHAPE WHAT GOES ON AROUND YOU. TO US IT DOESN'T MATTER WHERE YOU'VE COME FROM. WE'RE INTERESTED IN HOW YOU WANT TO GROW AND WHAT YOU WANT TO CHANGE. WE'RE AFTER PEOPLE WHO WILL HELP US PUSH THE FRONTIERS OF KNOWLEDGE. CHALLENGING CONVENTION IS IN OUR DNA. ALL OF WHICH LEAVES YOU WITH A DECISION: ARE YOU GOING TO SIT AND WATCH THE WORLD GO BY? OR DO YOU HAVE THE COURAGE AND ENERGY TO SHAPE IT? WE'LL HELP YOU EXPLORE, QUESTION AND CREATE POWERFUL IDEAS. WE'LL INTRODUCE YOU TO PEOPLE FROM EVERY CORNER OF THE PLANET, A GENUINELY GLOBAL COMMUNITY THAT LIVES, WORKS AND PLAYS TOGETHER. IF YOU GIVE UP AT THE FIRST HURDLE, ESSEX ISN'T FOR YOU. IF YOU WANT TO BE SPOON-FED A DEGREE, ESSEX ISN'T FOR YOU. IF YOU ARE BRAVE ENOUGH TO HAVE IDEAS AND GENEROUS ENOUGH TO SHARE THEM, WELCOME HOME.
