MSM MAASTRICHT SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

 Maastricht University

Join the multicultural learning experience and grow your international network

Working together for better global management

Maastricht School of Management (MSM) is part of the Maastricht University School of Business and Economics (SBE), located in the city of Maastricht, the Netherlands. MSM has a successful track record of 70 years in international development. MSM offers management education on a global scale and provides capacity-building solutions for a multitude of clients worldwide. Being the only institute with such a firm commitment to both management development and management education makes MSM unique in the world. Moreover, MSM is a globally networked organisation, with partners in more than 50 countries around the world and a network of around 22,000 alumni with active alumni chapters in 30 countries.

Learn from diversity

MSM offers its practice-oriented (non)degree programmes on location in Maastricht and through partnerships around the world. Studying in one of MSM's management programmes means you will share your study experience with fellow participants from many countries, professional backgrounds, and areas of interest. Being part of such a diverse community offers you the opportunity to significantly expand your international network and to learn from your fellow participants by exchanging knowledge and experience.

MSM offers a range of internationally accredited Master in Management, MBA and Executive PhD degree programmes, as well as short executive courses and summer school courses.

MSM's Education Programmes

Master in Business Administration (MBA)

The MBA programme will challenge you to develop your leadership and management skills in a truly international and diverse learning environment. The programme takes a practice-oriented approach, enabling you to apply the newly gained knowledge and skills directly to your daily practice. To allow you to customise your MBA around your specific study needs and career perspectives, you can choose from several expertise tracks.

Master in Management

The one-year full-time Master in Management (MM) targets recent graduates and young professionals with the ambition to manage people and processes with success in any organisation, country or context. This practice-oriented business programme will broaden your horizon, make you step out of your comfort zone and helps you to grow both personally and professionally, all in a multicultural learning environment.

Executive PhD

The part-time Executive PhD programme in Private Sector Development for Emerging Economies allows working professionals and researchers to combine their careers with obtaining a PhD. The programme provides advanced training in the theory and skills crucial to private sector development, design and research. You will benefit from the extensive knowledge and expertise of the key lecturers and supervisors in the programme, who are leading scholars in the fields of the research themes.

Research Methods and Skills

The Research Methods and Skills programme offers a unique opportunity to develop your academic skills and scientific mindset. The programme is developed for those wishing to develop their research careers in a broad range of industries: the private sector, NGOs, international development organisations, public sector, early career academics and doctoral candidates. The programme consists of five modules all geared towards drafting an initial research proposal. The modules take you through the empirical research cycle step-by-step and balance theoretical knowledge with experience-based learning.

Short Executive Programmes

Through MSM's Executive Open Enrollment Programmes, you can keep your knowledge and skills up to date and relevant. We have developed a close relation with local and global businesses, policy makers and entrepreneurs, which allows us to gauge the demands of labour markets. As such, MSM can draw on relevant expertise across the world in order to develop effective short education programmes for lifelong learning.

MBA Summer School

The MSM Summer School offers you the opportunity to follow a number of MBA expertise track courses at the MSM campus in Maastricht, The Netherlands. You will study the expertise track of your choice together with students from the MSM residential MBA programmes and participants from MSM's Global Partner Network, creating an interactive and international classroom experience.
